CAMPAIGN
OF MDCCLXXVI.

Explanation.

A. The Landing of the British Army near Utrecht on Long Island under cover of the Fenix, Rose and Grey hous — with the Thunder and Carcass Bombs the 22d of August 1776.

B. Pass at Flat Bush and Field of Action wherein the Rebels where defeated 27th August.

C. British and Hessian Encampments 28th August.

D. Encampment of the British Army at Jamaica, Flushing, New Town the 1st Sept.r

E. Embarkation of the British Troops at N. Town Inlet and their Landing at New York Island the 15th Sep.t

F. Skirmish on Vanderwater's Height between the British Light Infantry, the 42d Reg.t Hessian Comp.s of Chasseurs, and the — Rebels, the latter obliged to retire within their Works with loss, the 16th Sep.t

G. The British Army embarking in Flat Boats and other Craft passing thro' Hell Gate, and landed on Frogs Neck the 12th Oct.r

H. Several Corps reimbarked at Frogs Neck in Flat Boats and passing round Frogs Neck landed on Pells Point at the Mouth of — Hutchinson's River the 18th Oct.r

I. A Skirmish near a narrow Causeway, wherein the Rebels were routed, the 18th Oct.r

K. A Skirmish at Mamaroneck Lieu.t Col. Rogers Rangers and the Rebels, the latter obliged to retreat with loss, the 21st Oct.r

L. A Skirmish on the Road to Kings Bridge 23d Oct.r

M. A Skirmish between the Light Infantry Chasseurs and Rebels advanced Parties, who were drove back to their Works — the 28th October.

N. Action in passing the Bronx's River the 28th October.

O. Flight of the Rebels into their Entrenchments across the Bronx's River, the 28th Oct.r which Entrenchments they — evacuated in the Night of the 1st Nov.r

P. Landing of the British Forces on the New Jersey Shore, the 18th Nov.r under the Command of the R. Hon.ble Lieu.t Gen.l — Earl of Cornwallis.

Q. Attack of the 16th of November when the Rebel Lines and Redoubts near Fort Washington were storm'd and — that surrender'd R.t

R. Fort Lee and a Camp of 2000 Rebels surprised by Lieu.t Gen.l Cornwallis 20th November.

G3791
.S3
1780
.C3
Roch 24

E Hall John 2

ROCHAMBEAU # 24