Koran (fragment) leaf no. 7
GR no. 5
Photo: June, 2003

Fragment of a Koran manuscript, leaf no. 7, verso. The text is written in a stylized, cursive script, likely Thuluth or similar, on aged, yellowed paper. The fragment shows several lines of text, with some characters appearing to be part of a larger word or phrase. The script is dark brown or black, and the paper shows signs of wear, including discoloration and small red spots.
